You can't download the

You've tried to download or have downloaded the maximum number of times you can take this action.

You can create a new request at any time.

Avoid downloading your data backup onto public computers so others can see them.

Mr. Choudhri got multiple server errors when trying to create the download; once he was able to create it, his hard drive was too small for the mbox, resulting in failed downloads. Mr. Choudhri tried repeatedly, because he was not able to identify the problem with the downloads.

Because Google Takeout has a five-attempt limit, he has had to order it again. I have instructed him to download it, as soon as we are notified that it is done, to a computer that has adequate storage and a fast internet connection and, as soon as that is done, to upload it to your server.

Now that I have determined the problem, I expect the mbox production to take less than 24 hours.

The text messages are on an iPhone. Do you have a preferred extraction method for these?

Thank you.
